MARYLAND JOCKEY CLUB.

First Day of the Fall Meeting at Pimlico.

MONITOR WINS THE DIXIE STAKES.

Pequot, Troublesome and Irish King Capture Interesting Events.

[BY TELEGRAPH TO THE HERALD.] BALTIMORE, Md., Oct. 21, 1879. The Maryland Jockey Club opened its gates at Pimlico to-day to begin the autumn race meeting. The weather was very threatening during the morning, and many were, in consequence, kept away from the course. The attendance, however, notwithstanding the fear of rain, was very good, great numbers of elegant vehicles containing fashionably dressed ladies being parked in the field facing the quarter stretch. Rain fell during the racing, but the majority of the ladies' dresses being of black silk they were not materially injured. The rain, though not relished, did not take away the interest from the fine races that were run, particularly for the Dixie Stakes and two-mile heat race. The sport commenced with a dash of one mile, in which six horses were engaged, and this was by Mr. W. R. Babcock & Co.'s brown colt Pe quot, by a neck; Mollie McGinley second, Dairy for the second, which was the Dixie Stakes, for which five came to the post. The race was won by Mr. G. L. Lorillard's Monitor. This was one of the best races that has been nade by three-year-olds. The very best race previously, although the time was a quarter of a second more, was Vandalite's victory in the Breckenridg Stake, in 1874, when, with five pounds more weight up—a penalty for winning the Dixie Stakes three days before—Vandalite ran the two miles in 3:35. Monitor in this-race beat the great Kentucky crack, Lord Murphy, and three others. Lord Murphy was considered by the Western men, up to the start, the best three-year-old in America, and they backed him accordingly. Mr. J. R. Keene, his owner, must have been of the same opinion, & Co. $10,000 for him, to take the place of Spend-thrift, whom Monitor had beaten quite recently. Lord Murphy was a great favorite before the start, and when brought on the track and walked in front of the people was greatly admired. Hughes, the quished it to the end, winning the race by two lengths. A very remarkable event occurred during the race. After the horses had run a mile and a half, and while Lord Murphy and Harold were running head and head, Harold made a snap at Lord Murphy with his teeth, taking hold of Murphy's check, but letting go again in an instant. The attack was returned by Lord Murphy, and he gave Harold a pinch with his nippers a moment later, from which the blood flowed freely. Barbee, seeing the condition of Harold, took a pull on him, as he was afraid of forcing him to the front, and he dropped back to third place, where he remained to the finish of the race. This victory of Monitor makes him the champion three-year-old of the year, as he has beaten Lord Murphy, the latter true that Monitor was in the two races in which Falsetto beat Spendthrift at Saratoga, but he had not reached his present fine form at that time and was not nearly so good a horse as he has proved himself chase, was a complete farce, and was won by a horse having been published in the Herald soon after it occurred. Daly Brothers' Willie D ran a capital race and was second. Both heats in the race were run in the same time, 3:37%. The following were OFFICERS OF THE DAY. Judges-Messrs. Oden Bowie, A. C. Monson, A. Buford and O. H. Williams.

ONE MILE.

The first race was for a purse of $200, entrance money to the second horse, a dash of one mile for aidens of all ages; entrance $10. The starters were Mr. C. Smith's bay filly Lady Lou, by Pimlico, dam Mystery, 3 years old, carrying 92 lbs.; Mr. W. R. Babcock's brown colt Pequot, by Lexington, dam Lulu Horton, 3 years old, 92 lbs.; the same gentleman's bay filly Janet Murray, by Panic, dam Ethel Sprague, 4 years old, 105 lbs.; Mr. O. O. West's chestut filly Mollie McGinley, by Glen Athol, dam Minnie Lewis, 3 years old, 94% lbs.; Mr. W. H. Briggs brown filly Dairy Maid, by Strachino, dam Ecliptic, 3 years old, 92 lbs., and F. G. Carter's bay gelding Tramp, by Abd-el-Kader, dam's pedigree unknown Syears old, 108 lbs. Mr. Babcock's entries were the favorites, selling for $60; Mollie McGinley, $30; Dairy Maid, $15; the field $10. The horses had a very fair start, with Tramp in front, Mollie McGinley second, Pequot third, Dairy Maid fourth, Janet Murray afth, Lady Lou sixth. Tramp showed the way around the upper turn, and when he reached the quarter pole he had two longths the best of it, ie McGinley second, Dairy Maid third, Pequot fourth, Janet Murray fith, Lady Lou sixth. Mollifourth, Janet Murray fith, Lady Lou sixth. Mollio McGinley ran to the front on the backstretch and was first at the half-mile pole by a length, Pequot secone, Dairy Maid third, Tramp fourth, Janet Murray fith, Lady Lou sixth. Mollie McGinley, with daylight between herself and Pequot, led around the lower turn, and she was nearly two lengths in front at the three-quarter pole, Dairy Maid third, Janet Murray fourth, Tramp fith, Lady Lou sixth. A fine struggle up the homestretch resulted in Pequot winning the race by a head, Mollie McGinley second, two lengths in front of Dairy Maid, Janet Murray fourth, Lady Lou fifth, Tramp sixth. Time of the mile, 1:44%.

DIXIE STAKPS.

The second race was the Dixie Stakes for three-year-olds, two miles: $100 subscription, $50 forfeit; the club to add $1,500, of which $1,000 to the first horse, $500 to the second and the third to save his stake. It closed with seventy-nine nominations, of which the following came to the post:—Mr. J. R. Keene's bay colt Lord Murphy, by Pat Malloy, dam Wimonah, carrying 110 lbs.; Mr. G. L. Lorillard's chestnut colt Harold, by Learnington, dam Maggie B B, 110 lbs.; the same gentleman's chestnut gelding Monitor, by Gleneig, dam Minx, 107 lbs.; Mr. H. P. Medrath's chestnut filly Audax, by Tom Bowling, dam Crescent, 107 lbs., and Mr. E. A. Clabaugh's bay colt Rocnester, by Vaurchall, dam Heatherbell, 110 lbs. Lord Murphy was the favorete, selling for $1,200; G. L. Lorilard's team, $255; the field, $70. The start was an even one, but Hughes, on Monitor, sent his charge to the front in a moment. Rochester second, Lord Murphy third, Audax fourth, Harold fifth. Running around the upper turn the horses were spread out nose and tail, and in this way they passed the quarter pole, in $74, Seconds, Monitor leading, Rochester second, Andax third, Lord Murphy fourth, Harold fifth. Running down the backstretch a few changes took place, and as the horses passed the half mile pole—time, 54 seconds—Monitor was leading a length, Rochester second, half a length ahead of Lord Murphy, the latter a neck in advance of Harold, who was two lengths in front of Rochester around the lower turn, and as the horses passed the three-quarter pole—time 1:20—he still had that advantage, of Marold, who was a langths in front of Audax. Monitor kept a length in front of Rochester around the lower turn, and as the horses passed the three-quarter pole—time 1:20—he still had that advantage. Rochester second, haif a length in advance of Lord Murphy, the latter about the same distance alead of Harold, Audax bringing up the rear. The horses ransharply up the quarter stretch. Monitor kept 2:20 advantage he previously had, and Lord Murphy was about doing his best as they came to the stand at the finish of the first mile. The latter was second, a neck in front of Rochester, who was two lengths ahead of Harold, the latter six lengths in front of Audax. The mile was run in 1:40%. Leaving here it was evident that Lord Murphy was doing his best to reach Monitor, but Hughes would not allow such arity, and he kept the tail of Monitor in the Lord Murphy as the horses ran around oper turn at a clipping pace. As they passed the quarter pole Monitor led a length and a half, Lord Murphy second, one length ahead of Harold, the latter having moved up rapidly on the turn, and many of the spectators supposed that he was meant by his owner for the winner. Rochester had fallen back, and to all appearances was out of the race, as also had Andax. The time of the mile and a quarter was 2:13. Going down the backstretch Hughes kept Monitor in his place and Harold took sides with Lord Murphy, at one time showing his head in front. When they reached the half-mile pole Monitor led one length and Harold and Lord Murphy were running head and head, Rochester several lengths behind, fourth, Audax fifth. Time of the mile and a half, 2:46, Soon afterward Lord Murphy and Harold had a fight as before described. Lord Murphy was forced on the lower turn, and closed a trifle on Monitor, but Hughes, knowing that he held him safe, kept his horse steady, and he seen again settled himself to his work and was clear of Lord Murphy, the latter getting away from Harold, who had ruptured a bloodvessel in his head. As the horse came into the homestretch Monitor led one length—time, 3:06—Lord Murphy was getting the whip frequently as he came into the homestretch monitor led one length—time, 3:06—Lord Murphy was getting the whip frequently as he came into the homestretch, and his jockey was using all the persuasion in his power to send nim along. It was then palpable to every person that Lord Murphy was beaten and that Monitor would win the race, and shouts from his backers and admirers were given to him all the way up the stretch. Monitor came home an easy winner by two lengths, Lord Murphy was beaten and that Monitor would win the race, and shouts from his backers and admirers were given to him all the way up the stretch. Monitor came home an easy winner by two lengths, Lord Murphy second, ton yards ahead of Harold, who had been taken in hand by Barbee when he discovered the injury to the colt and when he was sure that Monitor would win the race. Troublesome went half of the journey on a slow canter, much to the disgust of all the spectators. The fourth and closing event of the day was two mile heats, which was won by Harry Colston's Irish King, a three-year-old that won the Breeders' Stake at Louisville recently, and which whip. General Phillips entered the homestretch haif a length in front of Irish King, the latter half a length in front of Willie D. Charley Bush fourth, the others far away. Irish King came away from his horses at the seven furlong pole and won the heat by six lengths, General Phillips and Willie D making a dead heat for second place, Charley Bush fourth, Surprise distanced. Time of the first mile, 1:47. Time of the heat, 3:374.

Second Heat.—frish King was a great favorite over the field. Hotook the lead when the flag fell, Charley Bush second, Willie D third, General Phillips fourth, a position the latter never rolinquished to the end. Willie D soon took the lead and made the pace strong, followed by Charley Bush, Irish King third, The horsos ran in this way for three-quarters of a mile, when Irish King took second place. At the finish of the first mile willie D led four lengths, Irish King second, a neck in front of Charley Bush, the latter three lengths in front of General Phillips. Then Irish King began to close gradually. Willie D led two lengths at the quarter pole, the same distance at the half and one length at the three-quarter pole, when Irish King made his attack for the heat, and after a close finish he won it by half a length. FIRST DAY OF THE OCTOBER TROTTING MEET ING-STEWART THE WINNER OF THE "THIRTY-EIGHT" PURSE-THE THREE-MINUTE CLASS POSTPONED AFTER FOUR HEATS.

[BY TELEGRAPH TO THE HERALD.]

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Oct. 21, 1879.

The October trotting meeting at Narragansett Park was begun to-day quite successfully. There was a fair attendance, good track and some interesting contests. The events were for three minute and 2:38 horses. The first was postponed after four heats had been trotted on account of darkness, and the second was won by the bay golding Stewart, who was the pool favorite against the field.

THREE-MINUTE CLASS. viz.:—Chestnut gelding Tommy Lee, brown gelding Eben M and bay mare Nellie Burke. In the first heat Tominy Lee led from the quarter to the finish and had easy work. The second heat was a constant struggle between Tommy Lee and Eben M, each leading alternately down to the three-quarter pole, but coming home Eben M went to the front by a length and kept that position nearly to the wire, when Tommy Lee broke and ran in ahead by a neck. As Eben M had also indulged in some running the judges declared it a dead heat. In the third heat Eben M had it all his own way to the half, when Tommy Lee was given his head and went to the front by running and the heat piven to Eben M. The fourth heat was trotted finely by Eben. M, and he had a very easy victory. The race was then put over.

There were ten starters in the 2:38 class as follows:—Bay gelding Stewart, bay mare Emma E, bay gelding Tramp, brown gelding Harry Brown, chestnut mare Ernestina, bay mare Prunella, black mare Ashland Maid, brown mare Mary Comsteck, bay mare Just Out and bay mare Gipsey. Only three heats were trotted. The first and second heats were taken by Stewart quite easily, but in the third heat Emma E took a long lead at once and retained it to the home quarter, where Stewart only beat her out after a hard struggle. The large field of horses did some excellent trotting.

The first game of the tournament for the Metropolitan championship has been arranged to take place to-morrow, on the Jersey City grounds, between the Jersey City and Alaska clubs. The Jersey City team will be the same as named in yesterday's HERALD, with the exception of Gedney, whose place will be filled by Hayes. The Alaska team, however, will be somewhat different. Lord Auglesey has sold the Middle Park Plate winner (Beaudesert) to Lord Alington for £7,000, and his lordship will be the joint owner of the son of Sterling with Sir Frederick Johnstone. The colt is to be trained at Kingsclere by John Porter. The sale took place under Lord Exeter's conditions, which it may be as well to explain are:-"The horses are sold without their engagements, but the purchaser has the right of running for any of them by paying half the stake, and in event of the horse winning or being entitled lo sec-ond or third money, one-third shall be paid to the of striking the horses out of any race in time to save a minor forfeit or discount, unless the purchaser

A meeting of the Jockey Club was held at Nowmarket on October 8, when the opinion of the club was taken as to the desirability of framing some rules for licensing jockeys, and for putting a stop to jockeys being owners of race horses and betting on races; and, the meeting appearing to be almost unanimous on the subject, a proposal for a rule was promised by one of the stewards. The meeting then adjourned. The following notice of nection at the next meeting was given by Mr. Craven:—To add to rule 53 of the rules of racing the following:—"No jockey shall ride in races on Newmarket Heath or elsewhere where these rules are in force until he shall have obtained a license from the stewards of the Jockey Club, on application at the registry office. No rider will be required to take out a license until the last day of the week in which he shall have ridden a winner for the first time. #### CRICKET.

DAFT'S ENGLISH ELEVEN VS. MERION CLUB TWENTY-TWO-AN EASY VICTORY ANTICI-PATED FOR THE STRANGERS.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Oct. 21, 1879.

The cricket contest between Daft's English eleven and twenty-two members of the Merion Club commenced at noon to-day. Scarcely a hundred spectators were attracted to the grounds at Ardmore, the dull, cold weather possibly having some-thing to do with it. The ground was very hard and bumpy, and consequently dangerous for batting. Several men at the wickets got some nasty knocks. Captain Daft, having won the toss, sent Lockwood and Oscroft to face the bowling of Braithwaite and Law. Each batsman opened with a single. Oscroft, after making 4 runs, was easily caught by Williams at short legfirst wicket for 8 runs. The fielding of the twenty-two commenced creditably and continued very fair through the inning, while the bowling, although well on the spot, had not much "twist" on. Silby filled the vacancy and was soon caught for a cipher, by Sayres—two wickets for 14. Lockwood made "a fourer" during this partnership, and in the same over was let off by Philler at the wicket. Shrewsoury followed on and commenced with a single, his next score being a pretty cut for 2. Lockwood, up to this stage of the game, had been making most of the runs, the telegraph board showing 30. Shrews-bury was caught by Waln with 3 to his credit three wickets for 34. Daft came next, and pened his account with a single. After carefully playing a portion of five or six overs he sent one o square leg, for which two rups were obtained. Lockwood was again missed in the field by Hoffman at long field on, the ball eventually going under the rope, counting 4 runs. The next hit of importance was also made by Lockwood, for which 5 was allowed, the ball flying clear over the rope boundary. Dart, after making 5 runs, was caught by short sin—1 wickets for 53. Out of this number Lockwood had made 40. Barnes next became his companion and started off with 2 to leg, followed by another "couple" in the same direction. Some time after this batsman was badly missed by Braithwarte, which secured a hard run. When 80 runs were registered Fox took up the bowling at the lower wicket in place of Braithwarte, 3 runs being made off his first over. Lockwood, during the last half hour had punished the bowling freely, the result being up to this stage of the game over 60 runs to his credit. Barnes had also been fairly industrious, having contributed 15 runs out of the "century" announced on the telegraph board. Braithwate now took the ball from Law at the Pavillon end, and commenced with a maiden. This bowler at length took Barnes' wicket with a first class ball. The Nottingham man played a very useful inning of 21—five wickets for 109. Bates, next man in, had made eight when dinner was announced.

After an hour's interval play was resumed, and in rope, counting 4 runs. The next hit of imporful inning of 23—five wickets for 109. Bates, next man in, had made eight when dinner was announced.

After an hour's interval play was resumed, and in the first over Bates was caught at long only Law—six wickets for 133. Emmett occupied the vacant wicket. Lowery bowled at the lower end, having commenced his essay just previous to the adjournment. Emmet soon got to work, and began with a couple of singles, followed by a fine drive over the bowler's head for 4. These two batsmen fairly collared the bowling for a time, Lockwood being the first to succumb, being bowled by Braithwaite. His inning of 38 was obtained by hard hitting and general careful play, although he was let off twice in the field; 7 wickets for 145. Shaw, ninth man in, treated one of Braithwaite's to a beautiful cut for 4, which swelled the total to 150 runs. His stay, however, was brief, for after making 6 he was rather cleverly caught by Fox at point; 3 wickets, 155. Pinder came next, and in a few minutes Emmett's contribution of 12 consisted of a 4, two 2's and the remainder singles. Morley, last man in, made 2, and was then bowled by Law. The inning closed at twenty minutes to four o'clock for 162 runs.

The home team commenced their inning at four o'clock for 162 runs.

Shaw and Morley, whose reputation seemed to have the effect of making the batsmen timid; the nature of the ground also against the fast bowler possibly had something to do with it. The score is appended up to drawing of the stumps:—

PIGEON SHOOTING.

OPENING OF THE TOURNAMENT OF THE NEW JERSEY STATE SPORTSMEN'S ASSOCIATION.

The New Jersey State Sportsmen's Association commenced their first annual tournament at ten A. M. yesterday at the West Side Park. The morning was quite pleasant, with a light, southeasterly wind blowing toward the traps. The Jersey City Heights Gun Club had the only tent on the ground and it appeared to be recognized as a kind of headquarters for the officers of the association. The traps were set in front of the grand stand and as the ground was very marshy the entire space between the traps and the thirty-one yards stand was boarded over. Mr. George B. Eaton, president of the associa tion, worked very hard throughout the day, and much of the success of the first day of the tournament may be credited to his exertions Ben West did good service as referee, and the centleman officiating as caller kept the shooters up to their work in a businesslike manner. A number of red capped boys had been broken in to filling the raps, and they were quite efficient at their task, losing very little time between the rounds. The birds were furnished by Tom Stagg, of Chicago, and were above the average rate of tame birds. They arrived from the West in wonderfully good condition, and Stage said that out of 1,200 in one lot he had only lost eight, and out of another lot of 1,100 only a couple were on the sick list. He expects a large supply of wild birds to arrive this morning.

At first the men were a luttle slow, but the caller soon brought them up to time, and the business progressed smoothly. As there was no stipulation as to the amount of powder to be used the charge varied from about 34 to 6 drachms of powder. Shot was limited to 1½ oz. and the bore to nothing larger than 10. MEISSONIER'S "LES DEUX VAN DE VELDE." There will be placed on private view from to-day, at Schaus & Co.'s, a celebrated little picture by from its literary as well as artistic interest, will always be known as one of the painter's masterpieces. This small panel, 1034x83/2 inches in size, formed part of the famed Laurent Richard collection. which was sold in Paris in May of last year, of which sale we, at the time, gave a full account by cable, and was withdrawn, it was supposed, at the highest price of the sale for $11,420. Mr. Schaus, who bought it afterward, now asks for it $18,000. In the studio of Adrieu Van de Velde are that painter of cattle and landscapes and his elder brother Willem, the marine painter. The latter has come on the invitation of the former to give his criticism and advice on a new picture which is about finished and stands framed on the easel. Willem is scated, with cloak on and hat in hand, in front, of the casel at the picture, on which he is looking appreciatively and attentively. This principal figure is seen in three-quarter view. Behind Willem stands Adrien, in loose studio neglige, paletie and brushes in hand, looking also at his handwork. Back of the pair, and against the wall, is an oak cabinet, on which are a jug and a half filled wine glass, a helmet, a mandolin and various bits of studio brice-abrac. By the cabinet, on the floor, is an open portfolio of drawings. There is a canvas, with a landscape on it, high up on the wall; several are placed face to the surbace on the floor, and a carved chair is seen in part to the left, by the door through which the light comes. The poses and expressions of the flgures, down to the minutest details, leave little or nothing to be desired, as does the execution of all the accessories, the dresses, furniture, bric-abrac and even the studio floor. The combination of color formed by the red cloak of Willem, his yellow felt hat, the rest of his gray costume—that of his brother of the same color—the light wood of the easel, the rich tints of the mahogany cabinet and those of the various accessory bits is very pleasing. From the engravings and etchings of the work, which we have seen, we had been led to expect a strong effect of light and shade; and that which the engraver and etcher has supplied we think the original would have been better for. Nevertheless the work, which was painted in 1856, is an excellent one and well worthy of its painter's great reputation.

Among the other new pictures which have recently been added to the gallery is a large and fine Clay's "Calme anx Environs de l'He de Schouwen, en Zélande," which was one of the two pictures which that painter contributed to the last Saion; a study by a Diax, a superb bit of coior and effect, called "A Turkish House," and a large Ziem, "The Public Gardens criticism and advice on a new picture which is about finished and stands framed on the easel. #### ENGLISH WEAVERS IN PATERSON.

Large numbers of English immigrants have in Paterson, N. J., during the past two months. Yesterday the number of adults who arrived was about fifty, and from three to eight children accompanied each couple. It is estimated that the population of Paterson has lately increased between one and two thousand. Most of these immigrants are silk weavers and come from Macclesfield. A large number bring looms and other machinery with them, and, as all the manufacturers have plenty of orders on hand at present, they are at once supplied with work in abundance.
Their arrival is, however, not looked upon with pleasure by the home weavers, as it is said that the immigrants will eventually reduce wages to the English standard. The immediate result of this increase in population has, however, been beneficial, especially to real estate owners and speculators. All the lower priced tenements, ranging from $5 to $8 por month, of which large numbers were to be had in the spring of the year, have now been taken, and most of them are in an overcrowded condition. This has given an impetus to the building interest, and houses intended for two or three families are going up in all directions, especially in the suburbs. Several New York capitalists are interested in, these projects, one having already erected eight houses and recently given out a contract for twelve more. As there appears to be plenty of work in both the silk mills and iron working establishments Patersonians generally are indulging in roseate anticipations of "good times coming." migrants are silk weavers and come from Maccles-

MY PARTNER."

Mr. M. Sato, an importer of Japanese goods, doing business at No. 92 Front street, this city, vesterday complained to Police Justice Davis, of Jersey City, that a quantity of goods had been stolen from him He asked for a search warrant to visit the premises occupied by Mr. William H. Vermilyea, a well known resident of Jersey City. In the search the merchant found a large amount of his property, valued at Signo. Mr. Vermilyea is an old resident of Jersey City, and a short time ago was a republican candidate for Pohee Commissioner in the First district, and the news of the Joien property being found in his possession created some excitement. He explained how he obtained the property in the following manner:—A year ago he was in partnership with a man in the tea brokerage business, underneath Mr. Sato's store. Suspecting his partner of being dishonest with Mr. Sato he removed their office to No. 137 Front street. Subsequently, he says, he discovered that his partner was roboing him and he compelled him to give him a mortgage on his house in Tenaily, N. J., to cover the amount. Besides this the partner surrendered to him a large amount of Japanese ware. There was snother sum of $600 due from the partner and after paying this Mr. Vermilyes gave him back the greater portion of the Japanese goods. The rest he removed to his home in Jersey City, where they were tound by Mr. Sato. Mr. Vermilyes says that his partner is now dead and withholds his name out of respect tor his family. He cheerfully resigned the goods which were demanded by Mr. Sato, and no complaint has been made against him. $300. Mr. Vermilyea is an old resident of Jersey

MR. BERGH CHANGES HIS MIND.

Before any witnesses were heard, Mr. Bergh demanded that a severe penalty should be inflicted upon the accused. He was told by the Court that the case had not yet been tried, and that his remarks were ill timed. Shortly afterward he was again upon his feet with a motion to dismiss the case, and the Court discharged the prisoner. The philanthropist did not explain to the astonished spectators the reason for his sudden change of mind.

OPENING OF A CHINESE THEATRE.

[From the San Francisco Bulletin, Oct. 13.] At five o'clock yesterday afternoon the Gee Qui Yung Theatre, recently erected by the Chinese on Vashington street, above Dupont, was opened for inspection. The building was crowded by Celestials, who were anxious to view this new place of inspection. The building was crowded by Celestials, who were anxious to view this new place of amusement, and all manifested great delight in the new theatre.

The theatre is of a size to seat 2,000 persons, and is free from ornament, the walls being of plain white. There are three balconies, one at the Washington street end and one upon either side, built somewhat higher than the main balcony—although entered by it from narrow steps—so that those seated in the latter have an unobstructed view of the stage, which is opposite it. The building was erected by a joint stock company of Chinese actors, some of whom were formerly attached to the other Chinese theatres in this city, and others are of a fresh importation of stars from the Celestial Empire. The performances on the opening night were the far-famed 'Fung Siang' and the 'Quing Ung Die We'—plays which always draw large audiences, as they introduce the melodious strains of the fish horn, the soul-stirring music of the tinpan, the eestatic tones of the one-stringed fiddle, and the sonerous vibrations of cracked cymbais. The audience last night was transported with delight when it once again heard the classical music of its own Flowery Kingdom; and as the yells, shouts, squesks and groans, with the orchestral music of its own Flowery Kingdom; and as the yells, shouts, squesks and groans, with the orchestral music of its own Flowery Kingdom; and as the yells, shouts, squesks and groans, with the orchestral music of its own Flowery Kingdom; and as the yells, shouts, squesks and groans, with the orchestral music of its own Flowery Kingdom; and as the yells, shouts, squesks and groans, with the orchestral music of its own Flowery Kingdom; and as the yells, shouts, squesks and groans, with the orchestral music of its own Flowery Kingdom; and as the yells, and present forgot that they were in a foreign land, and grinned with Joy. The theatre will in future be open every night.

POVERTY AND POISON.

A YOUNG MARRIED WOMAN SEEKS TO END HER TROUBLES WITH A DOSE OF CORROSIVE SUB-LIMATE-NO LIKELIHOOD OF RECOVERY. Captain Clinchy, of the Eighteenth precinct, sent a despatch to Police Headquarters yesterday stating that Clara Douglass, twenty-eight years of age, of No. 335 East Twenty-second street, had attempted to commit suicide by taking poison. When he case was investigated and the family history of the unfortunate woman made known a most pathetic story of poverty, misfortune and suffering was revealed. Mrs. Douglass' father is a prosperous builder of this city and her uncle is said to be a partner in a downtown hotel. She married, at the age of twenty-three years, Mr. Harry E. Douglass, who had been a well-to-do business man, but met with reverses in the panic of 1873. Taking his young wife with him, he moved into humble lodgings, and tried by economy to support himself on his small salary as a lithographer's assistant. He worked industriously, but never recovered his old-time prosperity. Moreover, Mrs. Douglass, who had from some unknown cause incurred the displeasure of her family, was abandoned by them to her own resources. In the course of time her responsibilities became increased by the birth of a boy, and a girl named Viola, Hor kusband's salary being inadequate to support them in the apartments they occupied in Madison street they moved to East Twenty-second street, where some relatives resided. Mr. Douglass was thrown out of employment two weeks ago, and but for the charity of the neighbors they would have been reduced to starvation. This sad condition of affairs led to fits of despondency and constant depression of the unfortunate woman's spirits. Yesterday morning, as usual, her husband left the house in search of employment. Shortly afterward the landlord made his appearance and demanded the half-month's rent which was due, Mrs. Douglass had not a cent in the house, and so told the landlord. The latter intimated that she would have to pay up or vacate the premises. He had not been long gone when a kindhearted woman who lives on the same floor, and who has been in the holit of rendering services to Mrs. Douglass, called and asked if she would not accept of a cup of tea. Being me to by a refusal, she returned about half an hour afterward and found Mrs. Douglass looking in ill health and very feeble. When questioned she collequy between the two women, little Viola was toying with a bottle which stood upon the table. She married, at the age of twenty-three years, toying with a bottle which stood upon the table. The phial contained corrosive sublimate, which was used as a rat poison. Mrs. Douglass finally confessed that she had drank some of it to put an end to her troubles. Word of the occurrence was at once despatched to the Eighteenth precinct station, and upon the arrival of the police the hap-less woman was in an uncongious condition. An station, and upon the arrival of the police the hap-less woman was in an unconscious condition. An ambulance conveyed her to Bellevue Hospital, where she received prompt medical treatment. It is feared, however, that she will not recover. In the mean-time her children were taken care of by charitable neighbors, while the unfortunate husband hung around Bellevue Hospital like one possossed, de-manding to be informed of his wife's condition. He was at last persuaded to return home and look after his children.

THE MISER MILLIONNAIRE.

Another hearing was yesterday held before Mastel in Chancery C. S. See, at Jersey City, in behalf of the contestant Catheart, one of the claimants to the money of the late Joseph L. Lewis, of Hoboken, who bequeathed his fortune of $1,500,000 to the who bequeathed his fortune of $1,500,000 to the federal government. Several witnesses were produced to support the statements made of Lewis' eccentricities. Bernhard Schwied testified that in 1870 he was a cierk in the employ of a greeer named Heintz, at the corner of Second and Washington streets, Hoboken, with whom Lewis dealt. He frequently visited the store to purchase eggs. Saying that he would buy $1 worth he would hunt all over the barrels to pick out the biggest, counting them out himself and placing them into a bag. After he had left the store the eggs in the bag were counted, and always found to be more than he had pad for. He once spoke of the fact that some eggs had been taken from the bag after he had left the store. Ex-Sherif Andrew Mount testified that he had known Lewis for many years. Once on entering the ladies' cabin on a lerryboat he stared at the ladies and then walking to the windows opened them, saying, "Too many women in here, too many." John Wolff, the administrator of the estate pendente lite, testified that he had known Lewis for many years and considered him perfectly sound mentally. The hearing was then adjourned.

The contest over Lewis' money has now been going on tor over two years and it is still impossible to predict when it will end. Over two thousand pages of testimony have been printed in the case. federal government. Several witnesses were pro-

FOUND THEIR FATHER DEAD.

Neil Dougherty, who was appointed engineer at the Brooklyn City Hall last wack, was found dead in the boiler room about eleven o'clock yesterday morning. His two little boys, aged respectively five and seven years, entered the room at the time above seven years, entered the room at the time above mentioned to inform their father of the funeral of their uncle which was to take place in the afternoon. They discovered him lying at the foot of a ladder which stood against the boiler, and, becoming alarmed, began screaming violently. Several persons ran into the basement and among them was Dr. Wyckoff, Register of Vital Statistics, who made an examination of Dougherty and found him to be dead. There were no bruises upon the body and the supposition is, that the unfortunate man, while ascending the ladder, was suffocated by the coal gas, with which the room was filled. The remains were taken to deceased's later residence, No. 82 Front street.

RIOTOUS 'LONGSHOREMEN.

The schooner Maria Patterson, loaded with turn ber, arrived at this port yesterday from Richmond, Va., and was made fast to the pier at the foot of Va., and was made fast to the pier at the foot of West Fifty-seventh street. Captain Issae Asa, who was in command of her, called at the Health Beard and obtained permission to discharge the cargo, while at Police Headquarters he stated that after the boat had been moored to the pier he was approached by half a dozen 'longshoremen anxious to obtain employment. He declined to give them work, as the majority of them were intoxicated. At his refusal they became bolsterous and threatened violence, but arterward left without carrying out any of the threats which they had made. Captain Ass was directed to inform the police of the Twenty-second precinct of his troubles, and an officer would be detailed to protect him and preserve the peace.
